

Global Studies Consortium

A worldwide network of graduate programs in global studies

INFORMATION LETTER

June 8, 2018

Lomonosov Moscow State University will hold the V International Scientific and Practical Conference “Pressing Issues in Global Studies: Global Values”

At the Conference the following issues will be discussed: the essence of global and universal values in the modern world, value preferences in the modern society, the prospects for achieving the optimal value consensus connected with dialogue based on global values while preserving and developing the national culture, historically developed identity.

In the frame of the Conference, the XI meeting of the International Global Studies Consortium will be held. Its participants will discuss the results of the Consortium’s activities in the academic year 2017/2018, pressing issues in global studies and new promising areas of the Consortium’s work, as well as the plans for convergence and integration of educational standards and scientific programs, promotion of joint educational projects, faculty and student exchange.

Russian and foreign scientists, researchers, tutors, students and postgraduate students, whose scientific interests are related to global research and international relations, are invited to participate in the Conference.

To participate in the Conference, it is necessary to submit an application, which is approved by the Organizing Committee (see Appendix).

Participation in the Conference is free of charge and does not require a registration fee.

Participants can submit abstracts. Abstracts will be published in the author's edition in the form of electronic collection in the scientific electronic library eLIBRARY and the science-measuring system Russian Science Citation Index (requirements for registration - see Appendix).

Conference regulations:

speaking time at the plenary session - up to 15 minutes, at the breakout session - up to 10 minutes, in the debate - up to 5 minutes.

Languages of the Conference: Russian, English.

The conference is held at the following address:
119991, Moscow, Leninskie Gory, 1, Building 13-14, block "B"
Faculty of Global Studies,
Lomonosov Moscow State University

Applications for participation in the Conference, short summaries and abstracts of reports are accepted by e-mail conference@fgp.msu.ru by 01.05.2018.

Contacts:

119991, Moscow, Leninskie Gory, 1, Building 13-14, block "B"
Faculty of Global Studies,
Lomonosov Moscow State University
conference@fgp.msu.ru
Phone number: +7 (495) 939 - 45 – 01

